INTRODUCTION

From the 5th to 12th of October, 2015, Peru is hosting the Annual Meetings of the Boards of Governors of the World Bank Group (WBG) and International Monetary Fund (IMF).

This great event returns to Latin America after 48 years (the last was in Rio de Janeiro in 1967), and Lima is responsible for receiving these distinguished visitors and showing a fresh view of a living city - proud to be called "City of Kings" - having its cuisine as an important asset that has unified the whole nation.

Lima, the capital of Peru and one of the main cities of Latin America, is a vibrant metropolis with approximately ten million inhabitants. It is the largest city in the country with modern amenities and a booming tourism infrastructure. It is the ideal place for carrying out international events.

On the occasion of the 2015 Annual Meetings, the Peruvian Government prepared this guide to provide participants with useful information about the art and culture of Peru, through the rich calendar of cultural events offered by the main districts of Metropolitan Lima.

CURRENT AND HISTORICAL INFORMATION

Lima was founded on January 18, 1535, by the Spanish conqueror Francisco Pizarro, who called it the “City of Kings”. At that time, Lima was the headquarters of the New Castile Governorate, and main center of power in Spanish America until the independence of young South American republics in the early 19th century. In the 16th century, Lima was already an advanced city, with the first university, the first printing house and the first theater in South America; a splendor that few cities in the old continent could have. As it was dangerously attractive, it had to be walled in the 17th century. This wall virtually disappeared along with most of other old buildings in the earthquake of 1746. However, its beautiful colonial architecture prevailed and UNESCO declared its historic center as a “World Heritage Site” in 1991.

On the outskirts, and even in its urban area, there are important architectural monuments: from pre-Columbian sites like the Citadel of Pachacamac (an ancient oracle spot and religious pilgrimage center) to colonial houses, temples and churches. Among other important tourism sites, you can find houses that preserved their beauty and magnificence, as well as interesting buildings like the Cathedral of Lima, the Government Palace, the Archbishop’s Palace, the Court of the Inquisition, Torre Tagle Palace, San Martin Square, the Boulevard of los Descalzos, the Lima Art Museum, the Real Felipe fortress and many others.

 Surfing

The centuries-old capital of Peru combines the modernity with the past in a special way, emphasizing its heritage preservation and the artistic expressions in Lima as one of the most important political and cultural centers of the New Continent. In addition, its elevated location on a beautiful bay in the ocean is surrounded by a beautiful landscape that is much appreciated by its visitors.

Lima district has a modern infrastructure, with important hotels, restaurants, shopping malls and night clubs. You should visit the Lima Historic Center and other districts such as Miraflores, San Isidro and Barranco: there you will find beautiful squares and pleasant parks, modern shopping centers and residential areas as well as pubs and clubs, full of fun. Here, surfing is practiced on the beaches and paragliding on its cliffs.

In October, there are various religious processions where parishioners (dressed in purple garments) sing and pray to the Señor de los Milagros (the Lord of Miracles). It is the largest catholic procession in the Americas.

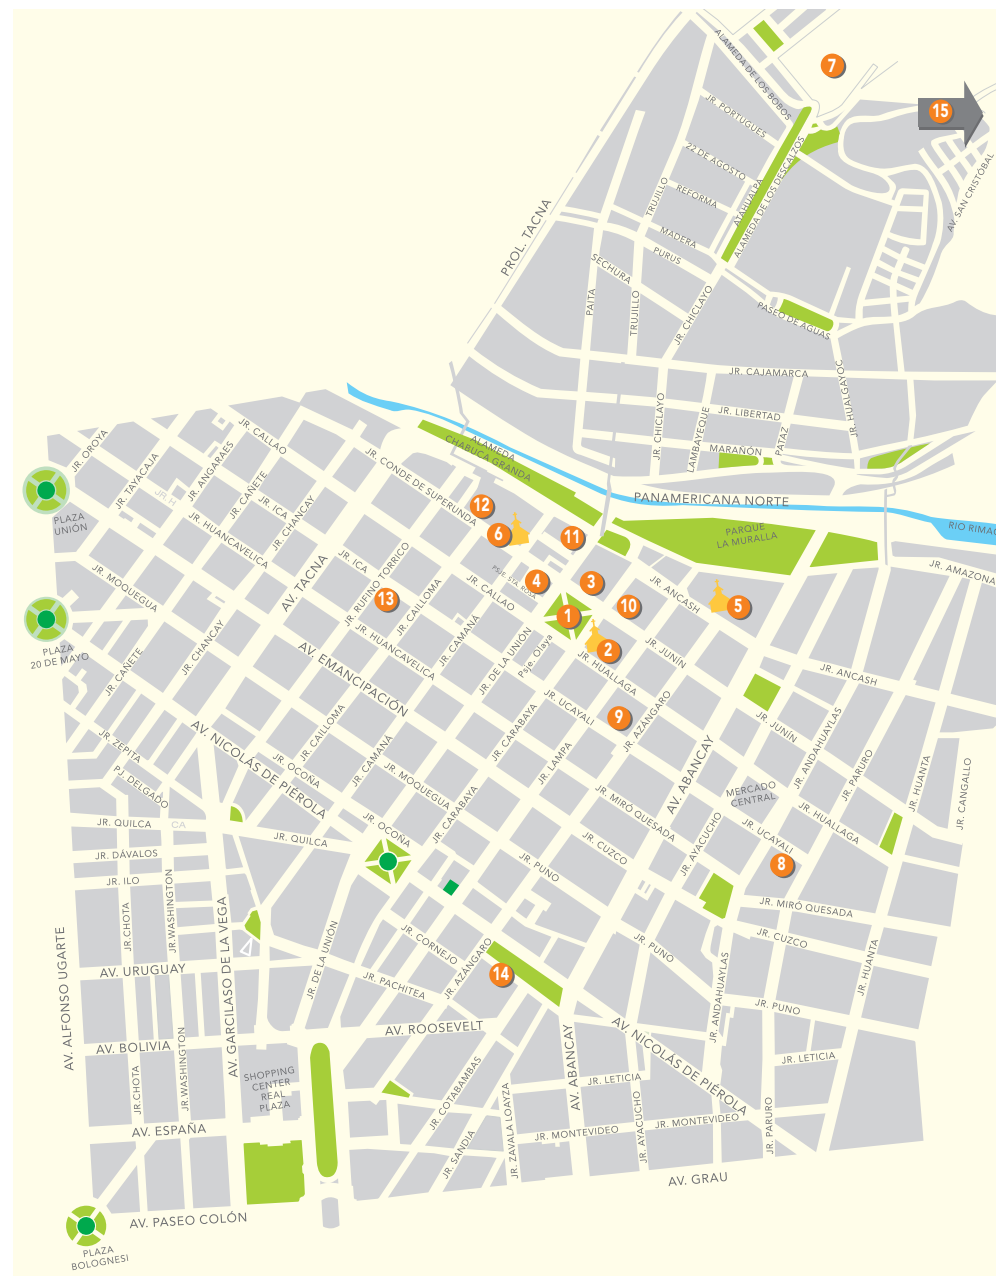

You just need to walk the streets, talk with the people or let yourself be pampered in one of its countless delicious restaurants to immediately understand that Lima is a very hospitable city.

LIMA MAIN ATTRACTIONS

LIMA DOWNTOWN

- Plaza de Armas (Main Square). It is the historical center core where Lima was originally founded. It is surrounded by the Cathedral, the Archbishop’s Palace, the Government Palace and the City Hall. There are very important republican and colonial buildings expressing an old and stately atmosphere: as is the case of a beautiful bronze fountain from the 17th century. From here, an immense viceroyalty was managed during almost three centuries after Francisco Pizarro founded Lima in this square in 1535.
- Catedral de Lima (Lima Cathedral). It is the largest and oldest church of its kind in Peru. Its building was started in 1535 on the ancient shrine temple Puma Inti. Its construction is characterized by several architectural styles - Baroque, Renaissance, Gothic and Neoclassic – as a result of reconstructions performed after damages caused by earthquakes. The Cathedral has important historic relics such as the choir golden chairs made by Spanish artist Pedro de Noguera, the Museum of Religious Art and the crypts where the remains of Francisco Pizarro and Nicolas de Rivera (the first mayor of Lima) are located.
- Palacio de Gobierno (Government Palace). At the peruvian Government Palace the picturesque changing of the guard takes place every day at noon (11:45 a.m. - 12:00 p.m). This changing of guard is in charge of the Husares de Junin (Junin Hussars). The Government Palace has an elegant facade and symmetric design.
- Palacio Municipal de Lima (City Hall Palace). The colonial style of the construction of the City Hall is adorned by large typical balconies. Its indoor environments are similar to the French Renaissance style, with a large courtyard with marble stairs leading to the main rooms. The entire place has big glass windows lighting up the inside.

- Iglesia y Convento de San Francisco (Church and Convent of San Francisco). It was built during the second half of the 16th century by the Lusitanian Constantino de Vasconcellos and mixing Baroque, Moorish and Mannerist styles. It has an interesting museum of colonial art and catacombs more than 300 years old. The front of the church was carved in stone and it has three naves. You can see Baroque and Neoclassical style side altars and the golden choir chairs carved in cedar of Nicaragua.
- Iglesia y Convento de Santo Domingo (Church and Convent of Santo Domingo). It was founded in 1535 on the site granted to the Dominican Fray Vicente de Valverde, Pizarro's expedition partner. At this place, on May 12th, 1551, the National University of San Marcos (also called Dean of Americas) was founded and its founding marked the university history of the continent. All Neoclassical-style Peruvian saints are located at the foot of an altarpiece found at the right side of the church's Main Altar. The remains of Santa Rosa de Lima, San Martin de Porras and Blessed Juan Masias lie here.
- Cerro San Cristóbal. It is considered the "Apu" (Quechua word for "protective mountain") of the city and the valley of Rimac, its name given in 1535 by Francisco Pizarro, Spanish conqueror. It is the best tourist viewpoint of the city and has a paved road to reach the summit.
- Museo del Convento de Los Descalzos (Museum of the Convent of the Barefoot). It is located at the end of the Alameda de Los Descalzos in Rimac district. It was built in 1595 and belongs to the order of the Franciscans. Inside, there is a valuable collection of paintings from the schools of Lima, Cusco and Quito, with about 400 paintings by famous painters in the world. In its cloisters and corridors you can see the portraits of the most famous men of science and sanctity of the past.

- Barrio Chino (Chinatown). One of the most vibrant neighborhoods in the east of the city was born as a result of the large influx of people from the Chinese provinces of Guangdong and Sichuan. Today, it is a major tourist and commercial center of Lima downtown with many shops such as the "Chifas" (Chinese restaurants). The most important place is: "El Arco" or "Portada China" (The Arc or China Facade) that was inaugurated in 1971 and leads to the street "Capon". Peru is the third country with a great number of Chinese people in America, with one million three hundred thousand Chinese people, Chinese and Cantonese-Chinese descendants. Chinatown has the highest concentration of these people.

MIRAFLORES

- Larco. Lima's iconic mall located at the end of the Larco Avenue in Miraflores. It was opened in 1998 offering an unparalleled view of the Pacific Ocean that attracted visitors from Peru and foreign countries. It became one of the most visited tourist destinations of the country. It offers entertainment and cultural experiences through its showrooms, cinemas, theaters, clubs, world-class shopping, restaurants and services.
- Parque del Amor (Love Park). One of the most beautiful areas is the Malecon de Miraflores (Miraflores' sidewalk near the beach) where couples on their wedding day like to take pictures next to a giant sculpture called "El Beso" (The Kiss). Nearby, on a cliff, expert paragliders along with their students practice paragliding and enjoy an exciting experience. The Peruvian Navy Lighthouse is near this place and you can walk through the parks overlooking the sea and sunset.

BARRANCO

- Puente de los Suspiros (Bridge of Sighs). At the heart of the bohemian area of Barranco, there is an old walkway to the beaches of the district. The beautiful wooden bridge has entertained generations of lovers and inspired poems and songs internationally renowned. At this place, you can have a great night as it has the best nightlife in the city.

PERUVIAN GASTRONOMY

Peru has been recognized as one of the best gastronomic destinations in the world - "Best Culinary Destination" (2013-2014) at the World Travel Awards - attracting a considerable number of gastronomic tourists.

Peruvian, and "limeño" gastronomy in particular, is characterized by a mixture of local, Spanish, Arabic, Asian and African flavors, to which migrants of different regions of the country, who came to the capital, added their ingredients and typical dishes, making Peruvian cuisine a melting pot of culinary heritage.

Each September, for eleven days, a food festival called MISTURA (considered the largest gastronomic event in the world) is visited by tens of thousands of people and foreigners.

Lima has three of the top 50 restaurants in the world* (<http://www.theworlds50best.com/list/1-50-winners>), offering its exquisite and varied range of dishes that are affordable for everyone (<http://www.peru.travel/en-uk/what-to-do/Peru-of-today/food/lima-cuisine.aspx>). Here you can taste delicious dishes with the best flavor of South America delighting the most discerning palates.

The main dishes of Lima's cuisine are: Carapulcra, Cau Cau, Anticuchos, Causa Limeña, Lomo Saltado, Aji de Gallina, Cebiche, Escabeche, Tacu Tacu, Arroz con Pollo, Pollo a la Brasa, among others. We recommend Chicha Morada (purple corn juice) as a refreshing drink and the Peruvian emblematic drink, Pisco Sour. There are also delicious desserts such as: Mazamorra Morada, Arroz con Leche, Suspiro a la Limeña, Turrón de Doña Pepa and Picarones.

LIMA

○ Visit Lima: Colonial & Modern

It will lead you to the center of Lima also called "La Ciudad de los Reyes" ("City of Kings") to see the Plaza de Armas. Here are the Government Palace, the Cathedral, the Archbishop's Palace, the City Hall and the Convent of Santo Domingo. The Historic Center of Lima was declared a World Heritage Site in 1988. The tour continues to the modern districts of San Isidro and Miraflores finally, includes a visit to the Love Park, from where you will have a beautiful view of the Pacific Ocean.

○ Visit Larco Museum & Archeological Complex Mateo Salado

Visit the Museo Larco Herrera, one of the most comprehensive museums in Latin America, which houses an unsurpassed collection of Treasures of Ancient Peru and inspires its visitors to discover, understand and enjoy more than five thousand years of history of ancient Peru. This private collection includes more than 45,000 pieces of pottery, mostly from the Moche culture, collected by Don Rafael Larco Hoyle, a leading scholar of our archaeological past and great collector. It is also known for its collection of "erotic pottery".

It continues with a visit to the Huaca Mateo Salado: the archaeological complex consists of five monumental pyramids, spread over an area of 12,000 square meters. The importance of Huaca Mateo Salado is that it hosted the chiefdom of Lima in ancient times. Its origins date back to 1110 AD.

Plaza San Martín, Lima

○ Visit Colonial Lima

The tour begins with a panoramic view of Paseo de la Republica, San Martin Square and Main Square, where are located the Government Palace, the Archbishop's Palace, the City Hall and the Cathedral, which houses masterpieces of the XVII century, besides there is the tomb of Francisco Pizarro. Then we will visit the Aliaga House, historic home of the conqueror Geronimo de Aliaga, where their descendants still live today. The mansion has a façade embellished by a Republican balcony; a grand staircase in the entrance of the house as a symbol of nobility; a nineteenth century Italian marble patio and a family chapel dating from 1814 and whose walls were covered with silver plates which ends in the Convent of Santo Domingo, one of the most historic of Lima, where the Peruvian saints Santa Rosa de Lima and San Martin de Porres lie.

○ City Tour Panoramic Lima & Mali Museum

The tour begins with a panoramic view of Paseo de la Republica, San Martin Square, Plaza de Armas, where the Government Palace, the Archbishop's Palace, City Hall and the Cathedral are. Then you will be taken to Lima Art Museum (MALI). This museum houses one of the largest and most representative collections of art in Peru since pre-Columbian times to the present day.

○ Visit the Museum of Anthropology and Archaeology

You will be taken to the National Museum of Anthropology, Archaeology and History of Peru in the district of Pueblo Libre, which offers one of the best exhibitions of art and archaeology of ancient Peru presented in chronological order for an easy understanding. The museum has pieces such as the Estela de Raimondi and the Obelisco de Tello of Chavin culture, textiles and mummies of the Paracas culture and Nazca and Mochica ceramics, among the most important.

○ Guide visit: Palacio de Gobierno (Government Palace)

You will be taken to the Plaza de Armas in the Historic Center of Lima, home of the Government Palace of Peru, also known as the "House of Pizarro," because its construction was done under the orders of the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro. The Grand Hall (Foyer of the Palace), the Great Dining Room, The Tupac Amaru Hall, Admiral Grau Hall and the Golden Hall, were inspired by the Hall of Mirrors at the Palace of Versailles.

○ Visit Pachacamac Ruins & Peruvian Paso Horses exhibition with lunch at Hacienda Los Ficus

You will be taken to the south of Lima, through the Pan American Highway, one of the most famous pilgrimage areas, the archaeological complex of Pachacamac in the Lurin Valley. The first buildings date from 200 BC, and it was a well-known consulted pre-Inca oracle and then as an important Inca Temple.

The tour continues to the world of the Peruvian Paso Horse, where you can admire its luxurious implements and the typical dress of the "Chalanes". You will also see the raising and grazing, spending a day in contact with nature, with the visit to the orchard and horse stable and the opportunity to ride them. At lunchtime you can enjoy the flavors of Peru in a show specially prepared for you.

○ Culinary Lima

This tour begins with a visit to a typical market in Lima to know the incredible variety of fish, fruits and vegetables used in Peruvian cuisine. A glossary of products will guide you on your journey to this most special visit. Then, you will enjoy a demonstration of the best dishes of the cuisine at the renowned restaurant "El Señorío de Sulco" ("The Lordship of Sulco") where you will learn to prepare a delicious ceviche and the famous lomo saltado. To complete this gastronomic experience, you will have a delicious typical lunch.

○ Excursion Lima by night

A special night tour of Lima, the “City of Kings”, to discover the charm and beauty of the Peruvian capital at night. It will be a sightseeing tour to the San Martin Square, the Cathedral of Lima, Archbishop’s Palace and Government Palace to see the architecture and beautifully illuminated monuments. The tour ends with a dinner at the restaurant La Huaca Pucllana.

○ Shopping tour

A visit to the most representative Peruvian products stores, including the store of Peruvian silver “Ilaria” in San Isidro, “Kuna” store with alpaca, baby alpaca and vicuna products, the gallery “Indigo” and finally the Indian Market in Miraflores neighborhood: a great opportunity to appreciate and buy excellent pieces of Peruvian handicrafts in alpaca, wool, silver, ceramics and wood, at very reasonable prices.

○ Artistic & Bohemian Barranco & Pedro de Osma Museum

Barranco is a district with great tradition and history of beautiful streets, old houses and squares. It is famous for being the most bohemian and relaxed expression of Lima and its great cultural scene that includes museums, original designer boutiques, craft fairs and concerts. Stroll through the famous Puente de los Suspiros (“Bridge of Sighs”) and breathe the air of old Lima. Then, there is the visit to Pedro de Osma Museum where you can enjoy the finest collection of paintings, furniture and textiles from the colonial time.
